HOOVER 'ACCEPTS' POSITION IN CABINET WITH RESERVATIONS

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Confirming the story carried yesterday by the International News Service that he would accept the Secretary of Commerce post in President-elect Harding's cabinet, Herbert Hoover today announced his acceptance of the post is not definite but depended upon his being given a free hand in making the Department of Commerce a larger and more important factor in the government and upon being allowed to direct relief work for starving European children.

Hoover said he had submitted to President-elect Harding certain proposals for reorganizing the Department of Commerce and indicated he desired more definite assurances from the President-elect that he would have free scope in handling the department. Hoover assured newspapermen his proposals to President-elect Harding were not of the "take it or leave it" character.

AUSTINVILLE WINS OVER "ALL STARS"

Before a large crowd Austinville High School won yesterday's cage game from Albany's "All Stars," composed of high school boys and former "stars" from teams. The game began like a whirlwind and ended in a like manner and for a time it looked like the visitors were sure enough Jonah's, but the Austinville team began its slow but sure march to victory, scoring almost at will until a total of 50 points against the "stars" 15 were rung up. Ryan, Briscoe and Royer were the luminaries for the winners while for the visitors especially Carroll showed flashes of rare form. A later game will be staged between the rival aggregations.

FOUR REEL FILM TO BE PRESENTED AT 1ST METHODIST

The cause of Christian Education will be presented in a four reel motion picture at the First Methodist church, Decatur, Friday evening. A cordial invitation has been extended the public to attend. There will be no admission charge.

Speaking of the presentation, Rev. G. M. Davenport, the pastor, stated: "From its very beginning Methodism has believed in the church school as an invaluable asset to the cause. The leaders of Methodism see pagan influences in secular education which prompts them to place renewed emphasis on Christian education. A recent survey revealed the fact that 60 per cent of the teachers in secular institutions do not believe in God nor the immortality of the soul. As a product of their influence, while only 15 per cent of the freshmen in these institutions are doubters, 45 per cent of the seniors are disbelievers."

An especial invitation was extended to the high school students, the parents of such students and the former students of church schools.

TURKS DEMAND NEW TERRITORY

The canvas was made by the state elections board, composed of Governor Kilby, Secretary of State Cobb and Attorney General Davis.

Cotton Men Save Another Kiddie

A crisp ten dollar bill today was speeding on its way of service to save the life of another kiddie abroad, as the result of the generosity of a group of local cotton men Wednesday. The men were gathered to order the morning's "dope," when someone suggested he would give a dollar for the starving children abroad. Nine other men matched the gift and another life was saved.

MEETING BETWEEN WOODROW WILSON AND NEW EXECUTIVE IS THOUGHT LIKELY

Mr. Harding Seeks Further Information Regarding Promises at Paris

GERMAN BONDS WILL BE ONE OF SUBJECTS

Cabinet Situation Remains Unchanged With Little Uncertainty on Portfolios

(International News Service)
ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Feb. 24.—A meeting between President-elect Harding and President Wilson, some time after March 4, in order to clear up some he-clouded aspects of the Paris peace conference is regarded as not unlikely by the advisers of the new executive. President Wilson's communication to the Senate and the fact that there was an understanding with the French and British at Paris relative to the acceptance of German bonds in lieu of Belgium's war debts came as a considerable surprise to Harding headquarters here.

In order to deal intelligently with the foreign relations of the new administration it will be necessary, it was pointed out here today, for Senator Harding to be informed fully on the understandings at Paris.

It is believed by those around the new President that only one man can supply this information and that is President Wilson. Hence a meeting is regarded as not unlikely. After March 4, as President, Senator Harding can with perfect propriety invite Woodrow Wilson, as a private citizen, to a conference with the assurance also that such an invitation would probably be accepted with alacrity.

The cabinet situation remained unchanged today, so far as could be learned here. The cabinet has been tentatively selected, except for some uncertainty regarding the labor appointment and unless there are some unforeseen developments, will stand as selected, according to those close to the President-elect.

ORGANIZED LABOR URGES VETO OF BILL TO PAY RAILROADS

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Organized labor today called upon President Wilson to veto the Winslow bill, which provides for immediate partial payment of guarantees to railroads under the provisions of the transportation act.

The conference of representatives of the national and international unions, connected with the American Federation of Labor, passed a resolution calling for a presidential veto of the bill and demanding that Congress take no action to override the veto, if the President takes such action.

With war declared upon the injunction as a weapon in labor disputes, labor leaders met here today as a board of strategy to plan their campaign against "judge-made law."

The labor leaders have virtually laid down the gauntlet to the incoming administration and have made plain the policies which labor will accept and those policies which labor will fight.

The Jones and Laughlin company is the last of the independent companies to make a reduction. Between 23,000 and 25,000 men are employed when the mills are on full time.

The community, no doubt, will be pleased to respond to the efforts that will be made to make the town a better one by helping the boys and girls in providing clean fair play for them. The next meeting will be held Monday, February 28, at 4 o'clock with Mrs. S. W. Irwin. Every woman interested in such work is urged to come, and join in making a bigger and better success of this organization.

LONDON, Feb. 24.—Great Britain is called upon to "set an example to the world" by cancelling the war debt owed to her by Italy and France in a note addressed to the allies by the Italian government it was learned this afternoon.

The persistent demand in the note was that Italy's share of German indemnity be increased from 10 per cent to from 20 to 23 per cent.

Legion Will Meet To Plan Ball Team

The American Legion will meet at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the Albany city hall to plan for a baseball team for the coming year. A four club circuit, composed of the Y. M. C. A., Kiwanis club, Legion and Telephone company, is planned.

The fate of the Muscle Shoals project rests with the House today. A spirit of hope pervaded the Alabama delegation as the House was convened this morning, press dispatches received by The Daily stated.

Representative Almon has been arranging pairs of friends of the $10,000,000 appropriation and representatives of the farmers organizations also have been busy, while Senator Underwood is lending his personal aid in the House fight which was scheduled to start late today.

Some estimates gave the Shoals project a good lead of votes, but more conservative estimates were that the vote would be closer. It was expected that the bill would be called up today and the last vote of the present congress registered thereon.

Yesterday afternoon W. W. Rahm, on behalf of the Albany chamber of commerce and Retail Merchants association; Frank G. Cook, on behalf of the Kiwanis club; Judge William E. Skeggs, Col. C. C. Harris and others telegraphed the Alabama delegation in Congress declaring the people are standing by them in their efforts to obtain the appropriation.

LAWRENCE SCHOOL DAMAGED BY FIRE; STRUCTURE SAVED

MOULTON, Feb. 24.—Special—The citizens of Moulton were thrown into high excitement about ten thirty o'clock Wednesday morning when fire broke out in the basement of the Lawrence County High School building. The fire seemed to have originated from the drying manual training material lying on top of the brick furnace in the east end of the basement. It was found necessary to cut several places through the floors of the hall and class rooms, and through the wainscoting, to reach the fire. The whole school and men and women of the town worked heroically for an hour or longer before the fire was fully controlled. The damage done will cost one hundred to two hundred dollars for repairs, it is estimated. Insurance is carried to the full value on the building.

Regular meeting of the County Board of Education is called to meet in the office of the county superintendent at Moulton, Friday, February 25, much important business is scheduled for transaction, especially finances pertaining to the schools of the county will be considered. The county qualified for partaking in the distribution of the State Revolving Fund and will secure approximately $4,000 for lengthening of the terms but even that will scarcely add enough to the county funds to extend the session to a full five months by two days. Some means of making the terms a full one hundred days is desired.

The requirements for securing a portion of the revolving funds are the laying of the one mill, and the three mill county school tax, a State recommended salary schedule, and the employment of an Elementary School Supervisor. These requirements have all been met.

The funds available include that mentioned above for the schools running the winter session are approximately $54,000; funds have been reserved for the three or four short summer schools.

The rural schools of Lawrence county celebrated the birth of Washington Tuesday afternoon and evening in almost every community; some with simple afternoon exercises attended by patrons of the schools; others with more elaborate exercises in the evening at which admission was charged.

Samuel, the little five year old son of Eugene Hefflin, living a mile south-east of Moulton, operated on for appendicitis last Saturday, is doing nicely as reported by the doctor in attendance.

CARUSO, THE GREAT ITALIAN SINGER RECOVERING

The musical world is in a state of rejoicing because of the good news, that Enrico Caruso, the great tenor, is not to pass away now, as was believed by many, but is expected to recover from his serious illness and again move the world with his wonderful voice and compelling personality. To attempt to describe Caruso, would be like trying to paint the lily, or to make a word picture do justice to the glowing stars. Whether his voice is heard by way of the Phonograph, or directly from behind the footlights, no other voice in this generation is or has been comparable to that of Caruso. The story of his discovery by the leaders of the musical world some eighteen years ago, is unique, and is an illustration of the successful working out of the law of supply and demand.

An official of a great New York Opera Company, was desirous of securing a tenor who could take the place in the musical world that men like Richard Mansfield held in the world of actors. The official in question concluded that some where, there must be a great Italian Singer, and he set about finding him in a novel manner. He stopped to have his shoes shined, and as "Tony" the Bootblack, worked away, his customer asked him: "Who is the greatest Italian tenor?" The immediate answer was: "Caruso."

After repeating this same question a number of times to Italians in New York in all walks of life, and each time receiving the information that Caruso led all Italians as a singer, the opera manager wired the then comparatively unknown singer, who was at that time in Europe, and got his promise to come to New York at once. From that day to this, no name in all the musical world is heard so often as that of Caruso, and no voice has delighted as many thousands as has his wonderful tenor voice.

The great singer was born in Milan, Italy, forty eight years ago, the son of a mechanic, and the son followed the trade of his father. He was proficient in it, receiving the munificent sum of 7 cents a day for his skill, large compensation for Italian boys thirty years ago. Later Caruso began to sing. His talent was at once recognized. He sang for some years in the churches, and kept up his work as a mechanic all the while. For his choir singing he soon received as much as eight dollars for three appearances. One result of Caruso's singing on the stage, has been that he has earned large fortunes, and is now reputed to be very wealthy, owning expensive homes in Italy as well as in this country.

It is related that during the most severe period of his recent illness, that as many Italians of the laboring classes came to inquire after him, as came of the wealthy Italians, or of the rich theater goers of Greater New York. He is described as utterly devoid of self seeking, vanity or that sensitiveness usually associated with great geniuses.

His tastes are simple in the extreme, and his whole devotion is to his art. Although Caruso's voice is the most remarkable thing about him, it is his personality that gives character and force to what he sings. He is described as almost as great an actor as he is a singer, and that in large measure his phenomenal success is due primarily to the man behind his voice.

During the world war Caruso proved himself to be a warm supporter of the Allied cause and his patriotism both for his native land and for America, was often remarked upon. He gave a large number of free exhibitions of his power in song, which efforts netted many thousand dollars to the Red Cross, and other war service organizations.

THE COAL STRIKE ENDED IN FAVOR OF ARBITRATION

The coal strike in the Birmingham district has been officially terminated, and all the questions at issue are to be settled by arbitration. The strike had been in progress since last September and as it was ended on February 22nd, its duration was almost six months. As to what the direct causes were that led to the termination of the strike, there has been much speculation, and the exact details as to such causes will perhaps never be known; but the remote cause of the determination of both operators and miners to leave their differences to arbitration, is the settled conviction among all fair minded persons, that calm discussion of differences and the use of sound reason, are better ways to settle disputes than are strikes or any other force method.

Dispatches credit a Birmingham publisher with having taken the initiative in seeking and securing an agreement from both the representatives of the miners, and those of the operators whereby each side is to abide by whatever decision is reached after an inquiry has been made and completed at the direction of Governor Kilby.

Such pledges were presented to Governor Kilby on Monday night, the 21st, duly signed by certain officials of the coal miners and coal operators. The governor promptly accepted the responsibility offered him, and events followed each other in quick succession, resulting in the termination of the strike and withdrawal of militia from the coal fields early Tuesday afternoon.

In presenting the agreement to Governor Kilby it was urged that a commission be named to assist the Governor in arriving at a just decision, and that such a commission will be appointed. It was set forth that the public was slowly being brought people had nothing to lose and everything to gain by a discontinuation of further industrial strife.

There will be an audible sigh of relief all over the state, now that one of its most extensive industrial battles has been ended. The details of the final decision will most concern those directly interested, but what ever terms are finally agreed upon, it is safe to say that both parties to the controversy will be gainers in a large measure.

HARDING'S GREAT MISTAKE

If the country was pleased with the selection of Charles E. Hughes to be Secretary of State, how great the reaction must be upon President-elect Harding's announcement that he will appoint Harry M. Daugherty to be his Attorney-General.

Outside of the state of Ohio Mr. Daugherty was little known until Mr. Harding was nominated for the presidency. His Ohio political record, known to Mr. Harding as well as his own, is not one which will lend confidence to the Harding administration. To the contrary, Mr. Harding has laid himself open to the direct charge of having permitted a personal obligation to interfere with the best interests of the nation.

Some weeks prior to the Republican convention of 1920 these words of wisdom were dropped by Mr. Daugherty:

At the proper time after the Republican National Convention meets, some fifteen men, bleary-eyed with loss of sleep and perspiring profusely with the excessive heat, will sit down in seclusion around a big table. I will be with them and will present the name of Senator Harding to them, and before they get through they will put him over.

The reports of the Republican National Convention testify to Mr. Daugherty's ability as a prophet. "Senator Harding was 'put over' in very much the manner which Mr. Daugherty predicted. It was a repetition of the methods by which Mr. Daugherty had 'put over' Mr. Harding for the gubernatorial nomination in Ohio some years before.

Naturally Senator Harding is grateful for Mr. Daugherty's aid, and by his political code it is fitting and proper that political debts should be paid at public expense.

But in order to grasp the enormity of the blunder which is about to be committed under the cover of patronage it is necessary to review Mr. Daugherty's history.

Throughout the years of his public life he has been known simply as a corporation lobbyist.

In the early nineties he served in the lower branch of the Ohio state legislature.

During his incumbency a scandal developed over the contest between Joseph B. Foraker and John Sherman, aspirants for the United States senatorship.

Daugherty was regarded as a Foraker man but when the time came he voted for Sherman.

The Columbus Post at that time published sensational charges which reflected upon Daugherty. A legislative committee was appointed to investigate and after a perfunctory examination of witnesses the committee reported: "We are unable to find any evidence that would lead us to believe that the said H. M. Daugherty either received or was offered any consideration for his vote for John Sherman for United States senator."

The Post had charged that marked bills had been drawn from a certain bank by a Sherman supporter and that some of these bills had been drawn from a certain bank by a Sherman supporter and that some of these bills had been seen in Mr. Daugherty's possession.

The Post does not know how Mr. Daugherty obtained the bills; perhaps the gentleman can explain the matter, but the Post does know that he was pledged to Mr. Foraker; that the bills were drawn from the bank by a Sherman supporter; that some, if not all of them, afterward reached Mr. Daugherty, and that on the night of the day the bills were drawn that gentleman voted for Mr. Sherman.

A few years later Mr. Charles L. Kertiz became a member of the Republican National Committee from Ohio and made the following statement concerning Mr. Daugherty:

He is the man who promised on his honor five years ago to vote for Joseph B. Foraker for Senator and afterward violated his pledge and voted for Sherman.

Mr. Daugherty's life has been one of petty political turmoil and trading. As a patronage broker in his own small way he seems to have excelled. In his ability to exact payment in full for services rendered he has no equal.

But we look in vain for any evidence of legal ability in Mr. Daugherty's makeup. He is a lawyer, it is true. But he seems to have paid only that attention to the law which would permit him to distinguish between "good" and "bad" bills.

We have learned in this country to hold the members of our cabinet in much the same esteem as we do the members of the Supreme Court.

The selection of cabinet officials has been a difficult task, not because brainy men are few and far between, but because it has been the desire of our Presidents to handpick the available material and to settle upon those who are absolutely without flaws or taint in any degree.

The public sense of decency is outraged by the knowledge that the hitherto lofty cabinet plane is to be lowered to the Daugherty level.—Nashville Tennessean.

If Herr Bismark, indemnity maker for the Franco-Prussian war, were alive the first thing he would note would be how small by comparison was his charge against France, to the 56 billions now charged up to the Germans.

All crimes are crimes and do doubt about it. But as long as the criminals run at large, the definition of crime is only of academic interest.

It is said that Caruso's great vitality as demonstrated in his powerful voice that has delighted so many thousands, is the one thing that has stood in the way of his death from the terrible illness that recently befell him. The musical world is full of delight now, that the recovery of the great singer is believed to be assured. It is even reported that the long rest for his throat and vocal cords are destined to greatly improve the volume

LOST EL DORADO IS SOUGHT IN WILD CANONS OF COLORADO

(International News Service)

CRAIG, Col., Feb. 24.—Is there another Eldorado in one of the numerous but almost inaccessible canons of western Moffat County, close to the Utah border line?

This is the burning question that is on the lips of scores of Craig residents, following vague intimations that the discovery of a rich deposit of placer gold in one of these deep canons has already resulted in the death of at least two persons.

The countryside around Ducesne, Utah, is also aroused over the story revealed here, and many oldtime prospectors are expected to trek the treacherous territory surrounding "Dead Man's Ledge," below the junction of the Yampa and Greene Rivers this Summer in search of the reported gold ledge.

A little heap of bones and fragmentary remains of an old Indian's tale, are the only known facts of the story of the reputed strike of rich gold ore and a death fight with desperadoes—a story that reads like a chapter of fiction of the early West.

While exploring a steep cliff in Pool Canon, less than two miles below Yampa and Greene Rivers, Harry Chew discovered a human skull exposed to view by the erosion of rocks that covered it. He dug into a large pile of loose rock and debris and brought to light sufficient human bones to construct two complete skeletons.

Later, Pete Madison, a prospector, came to the Chew ranch from Duchesne, Utah. Madison was looking for a rich deposit of placer gold, the approximate location of which had been told him by an aged Uintah Indian. Madison tramped the canons of the Green and Yampa streams, but was never able to find the gold. He declares he will make further efforts this Summer to locate the "lost El-Dorado."

Madison had been able to get only a disconnected story from the old Uintah Indian, who said that two white miners, with an escort of Indians, spent an entire Winter in the Pats Hole section of Moffat County. The Indian who told the tale said he was one of the escort. All Winter the miners worked at crude sluices, washing gold from the rich sands. By Spring they had secured a large quantity of the precious yellow metal, estimated by the Indian to be about twenty-five pounds.

Taking their Winter's cleaning, the party started West for a small Mormon settlement, to replenish their supplies. They had gone but a short distance when they were set upon by a band of desperadoes and outlaws. The two miners backed in a ledge and gave fight, while the four Indians fled.

Both the miners were killed by the outlaws the Indian told Madison, and the bodies partially covered by piling off part of the ledge.

Carnival Festivities.

Carnival festivities originated in the Roman Catholic countries of Europe, where they were celebrated, especially in Rome and Naples, with great mirth and freedom during the week before the beginning of Lent. Mardi Gras (literally "Fat Tuesday," so called for the French practice of parading a fat ox, "boeuf gras," during the celebration of the day), or Shrove Tuesday, is the last day of the carnival. The festivities were first introduced into New Orleans in 1833, by one of its French citizens, Mr. Marigny, and for many years they consisted of promiscuous maskers roaming through the streets of the city, indulging in various kinds of amusements, fun and folly.

Oldest Crown Jewel a Sapphire.

Only a few of the early British royal jewels survive in the present regalia. The oldest of these is the sapphire of Edward the Confessor, which was originally set in his coronation ring. It was buried with him in his shrine in Westminster Abbey, but in 1101 the shrine was broken open and this and other jewels removed. The sapphire is in the cross on the top of the king's state crown. Legend has it that St. John once appeared before the Confessor as a pilgrim, and that the monarch gave him the ring, which was returned later. The stone is reputed to have the power of curing sciatica and rheumatism, but has not been used for this purpose recently.

The "Bobbin Boy."

This was a nickname given to Nathaniel Prentiss Banks of Massachusetts, at one time its governor and for many years a member of congress. He was speaker of the house of representatives for a session, being chosen on the one hundred and thirty-third ballot. In his youth he learned the trade of a machinist and worked in a factory; hence the nickname.

CITY ENRICHED

The Albany city treasury was enriched today by fines assessed by Acting Mayor Cline in police court. The defendants included two alleged speeders, two charged with disorderly conduct and one charged with violation of the prohibition laws.

The vice-president, Mrs. Ruby Thompson, conducted the devotional. How the Mission Study class would result in broader intelligence, wider sympathy, enriched spiritual life, a sense of responsibility for evangelization of the world, and a larger appreciation of the privileges in blessings of this country. A class was then organized with the enrollment of twelve members. "The Church and Community" was the book selected for study. At close of the meeting Mrs. Cobb, assisted by Mrs. B. B. Camar served refreshments.

LYDIANS HAD FIRST COINAGE

Treasure Deposited in the Temples Was Impressed With Badge or Symbol of Divinity.

So far as is known, the Lydians, says Herodotus, first introduced gold and silver coin. The invention was not far to seek. Treasure came to be deposited for safety in the temples, where it was consecrated to the care of the divinity by being impressed with a badge or symbol. The sacred symbol being accepted as guarantee of value, the pieces of metal so impressed found easy circulation. The earliest Lydian coins extant, deriving, probably from the reign of Gyges (about 700 B. C.), are bean-shaped lumps of native Lydian gold, blenched with silver. Each coin bears on its obverse the figure of a lion and on its reverse the impress of the bull-head serving to keep the metal in place, while being struck. From Lydia the one-sided coin spread throughout the coasts and islands of the Aegean sea, each city issuing coins bearing the symbol of its divinity. In Greece the earliest coins of silver, with the figure of the tortoise on the obverse, are said to have been struck by Pheidon of Argos. To Solon, about 590 B. C., is ascribed the introduction into Athens of the tetradrachm, on its obverse the head of Athena, on its reverse an owl. Sparta enjoyed all to itself the luxury of a purely iron coinage. The Greek coins from 480 to 300 B. C. marked a great advancement in the way of art, and Athenian money was the chief medium of exchange during this period. Other nations later adopted their own coinage, which has continued to improve with the advance of civilization.

It requires one cubic yard of clay to make 400 bricks.

Spring Suits Are Tempting

SPRING, having dawned over the horizon in the world of fashion, lures us to study of new suits—and an early Easter is an incentive for making an immediate choice. The new models are as "easy to look at" as a pretty woman—and as hard to resist. There is nothing quite so tempting—except the new hats to be worn with them—and both have beautiful innovations in styles to offer.

At this writing, dark blue, beige and gray are in the ascendant in colors for suits, but not monopolizing attention, and there are many shades in between. Colors are quiet, designs unusual and much attention given to embellishment, in which embroideries lead. Two very smart exponents of the styles in the embroidered coterie are shown in the suits pictured. A dark blue twill at the left has a coat that is plainly of Chinese inspiration, hanging in straight, cape-like lines, and with flaring sleeves. The silk embroidery is in self-color. Nearly always there is a gleam of silver or gold thread in these embroideries, or the introduction of a little soft contrasting color, sparingly used. The skirt in this model is very practical—wide enough for comfort—and plain. It makes a fine background for a handsome sash of satin, bordered with a looped fringe. The coat fastens only at the neck, revealing a frilly blouse beneath. It is a youthful, springtime model, open at the throat and cool looking.

The suit at the right of the picture will delight those who love trim, straight lines; it hardly acknowledges a curve and emphasizes this fact with buttons that extend to the top of the standing collar. Flaring sleeves, embroidery about the arm's-eye, and large patch pockets that extend below the bottom of the coat, are all noteworthy, good points in the smart style of this model.

Observations made simultaneously from stations far apart have proved that the average meteor when first seen is about eighty miles above the surface of the earth, and disappears from view at thirty miles. In other words, it travels fifty miles before the atmospheric friction burns it up. This friction, it is reckoned, raises it to a temperature of something like 3,000,000 degrees, so that, unless of large size, it has no chance to reach our planet.

Only Real "Failure." I'm proof against that word "failure." I've seen behind it. The only failure a man ought to fear is failure in cleaving to the purpose he sees to be best.—George Elliot.

BOOZE RULINGS MAKE LAW FARCE

By W. H. ATKINS,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24. — What about "booze" under the new administration? Both "drys" and "wets" are anxious for an answer to that question. President Harding is expected to fulfill his promise to give the country "real enforcement." The "booze" laws are to be enforced in a different fashion, unless all signs fail. What seems probable is that new dry law chiefs, pursuant to the new administration policy, will begin by slashing "red tape" eliminating stage play and get down to an application of the Volstead act as it was framed.

President Harding comes into power to find that "dry" law administration is enveloped in utter confusion. Allowing for all of the logical mistakes that were to be expected in the first year of experiment under the dry law, officials will find in force a maze of rules and regulations, in the hands of dry law branches that are not co-ordinated, and which fall in their purpose. Many of these rules, found to be impractical, and some of them ridiculous, will be rescinded and workable rules substituted.

Higher officials having supervision of "dry" laws now frankly admit that prohibition enforcement would have proved less farcical had no attempt been made to impose restrictions of doubtful legality.

It is a grand farce to see smuggling and bootlegging operations upon a gigantic scale, and even illicit whiskey manufacturing to an extent that baffles enforcement directors, and to note the apparently helpless attitude of the Government's prohibition bureau.

Whiskey operations of an illicit character will be dealt with in a firm manner by the new administration, it is expected, by a closer co-ordination of the Government's agencies.

During the last few weeks of the Wilson term dry law enforcers have been stopping all of the possible holes through which whiskey and other liquors have been leaking out to the bootleg trade. With the backing of the Department of Justice many new and severe regulations have been imposed. Among these was a rule putting the wholesale liquor dealers out of business and limiting legal sale of whiskey through whiskey manufacturers and wholesale druggists.

But in these recent steps taken by dry law chiefs there is much to indicate that the Volstead act will be Extraordinary Hurdling. William Priestly, at Hull, England in 1863, jumped one thousand hurdles, each three feet six inches high, in sixty-one and a half minutes. That is equal to lifting his own weight nine times the height of St. Paul's, in London, and running six miles into the bargain.

NINE GUARDSMEN HELD IN JEFFERSON COUNTY JAIL TODAY ON NEW WARRANTS

Prisoners Taken From Hamilton to Birmingham by Four Officers

JASPER GRAND JURY WILL MEET FRIDAY

Wilkinson Hopes to Bring Soldiers to Trial in Two Weeks

(International News Service) BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Feb. 24. —

Sergeant Glenn R. Stephens and Robert Lancaster, Bugler Clarence Richardson, Private W. E. Hamby, Roy Patton, Joseph W. Key, W. E. Speed, Manly Sexton and James Franklin, the nine members of Company M, state militia, who are held on a warrant sworn out by L. B. Baird brother of Will Baird, miner, who was taken from jail at Jasper and shot to death on January 13, are now in the Jefferson County jail here.

The prisoners were brought to Birmingham from Hamilton in charge of Sheriff Claude Guttery, of Walker county and three law enforcement officers. They will remain in the Birmingham jail until further orders are given by Judge Sewell.

The Walker county grand jury, which investigated the killing of Baird, is scheduled to reassemble at 10 o'clock Friday morning.

Fifteen or twenty witnesses are to be examined during the day. Indictments are expected to be returned against the nine guardsmen and probably others, after which the jury probably will take another recess.

Special Prosecutor Wilkinson announced at Jasper Thursday morning that the state planned for immediate and speedy trials of the soldiers. He expressed the hope that the trials would begin within two weeks.

COTTON MARKET LOWERED BY SALES

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Feb. 24. —There was moderate general selling in the cotton market at the start today and first prices were unchanged to nine points lower. Demand came from some Southern interests and Wall street, but was comparatively limited and later quotations eased to a net loss of 9 to 20 points. One March notice was reported in circulation.

Panama Canal Locks.

There are few things more interesting to the average traveler than to pass through the great locks of the Panama canal. The vessel enters very slowly and as she does lines are taken aboard leading to electric motors or "mules," which keep her in the center of the lock. When the great gates at the rear swing together and the water is turned into the enclosure thus formed. Looking over the side of the steamer one sees a great bubble of water rise from the bottom, then a second and third appear until finally the whole surface of the lock is boiling. The pressure is so great that often fish sucked into the drains that lead from the Gatun lake, are drawn in and thrown several feet into the air. When the proper level is finally reached the gate ahead of the vessel opens and the "mules" start forward, dragging the vessel free from the lock before she moves ahead under her own power.

Waterless Animals.

That there are animals that live without drinking is shown by the gazelles on the island of Sand-ud-Din, off the coast of Somaliland, where there is no fresh water at all, and where the annual rainfall is less than two and three-quarter inches.

QUEER CUSTOMS OF AFGHANS

People Eat Only With the Right Hand —Animal Life of Every Description Held Sacred.

The average Afghan has no particular fondness for wine or spirits. Tobacco raised in the land is of inferior quality; the better sorts are imported from Persia, Russia, India and Egypt. Amir Habibullah Khan always had a good private stock of Havana cigars. Both young and old people take snuff.

Ten, sweetened and unsweetened, is the favorite drink and is consumed in prodigious quantities. When you go to see an Afghan, you can hardly escape before swallowing four or five cups of tea; it is, therefore, no trifling gastronomic feat to pay several visits in one afternoon, the more so if he polite host (with a view of honoring the European guests) has the tea served in big Russian glasses.

The right hand is always used in eating and drinking, the left hand being considered unclean.

Dogs, though numerous and useful, are looked upon as unclean, and pious people never touch them.

Animals that go badly lame on the march or camels that get snowbound in the mountain passes are abandoned to their fate. Afghans never kill such animals, as we might do, to put them out of their misery. They believe that all living things are in the hands of Allah, and that he presumes to interfere with the Supreme Will. Afghans will not even kill fleas or other vermin; they merely pick them off and throw them away.

POCAHONTAS NOT REAL NAME

Literally Means "Tomboy" and Was Given to Indian Child as a Term of Ridicule.

The story of John Smith and Pocahontas is known to everyone who has attended school in the United States, but few know that the name Pocahontas was only a nickname, and meant so unpoetical a thing as "tomboy." Her real name was Ma-ta-oka. When she was about ten or eleven years old she was engaged in turning a series of handspins at the door of her father's hut. He was the chief of the tribe, and was known as Pow-ha-tan, although his real name was A-bun-so-nacook. Ma-bun-ta, an Indian runner, came leaping through the forest with a message for the chief. He turned the corner of the hut just as the little daughter of the chief made one of her most vigorous wheels. Her flying feet struck him in the chest and knocked him down.

Indians dearly love a rough joke, and a great shout of laughter went up, although the chief was anything but pleased, and called his daughter sharply to him. "This is not maiden's play," he said. "Will you never cease to be a po-ca-hun-tas?" The children caught up the name, and it clung to the little girl ever afterward. The English changed the spelling a bit, but the name has come down in history almost as it was given away back in 1607.

Chang Smoked Pipe.

Li Hung Chang was the first to pay me a visit in my capacity of minister of finance, Count Sergius Witte late Russian diplomat, writes in the World's Work. When we had taken our tea, I inquired of Li Hung Chang whether he did not want to smoke. He emitted a sound not unlike the neighing of a horse. Immediately two Chinamen came running from the adjacent room, one carrying a narghile and the other tobacco. Then began the ceremony of smoking. Li Hung Chang sat quietly inhaling and exhaling the smoke, while his attendants with great awe lighted the narghile, held the pipe, took it from his mouth, and put it back. It was apparent that Li Hung Chang wanted to impress me with all these ceremonies. On my part, I made believe that I did not pay the slightest attention to the proceedings.

Silks Caught Feminine Fancy.

Silk and fashion are closely linked throughout the centuries. Modes changed to conform to the new fabric as it was brought into each country. There were the ladies of Greece who first discovered that the heavy oriental fabrics could be unraveled and woven, like their linen garments, into filmy, translucent materials of wondrous beauty.

Ornamental silks were not introduced into Europe until 500 A. D. and with them came the influence of Byzantium on the styles of the day. It was through the wars waged by the Crusaders that silk weavers were brought into Italy, and the fame of Venetian and Florentine fashions spread abroad.

Profit in Perfume Hunting.

There seems to be no good reason why in this country the gathering of sweet-smelling herbs and flowers for the perfumery trade might not be found profitable. It has recently been a considerable industry in rural parts of England, a great many women and children having taken it up.

In April the picking of cowslips begins, those flowers being in demand as a cure for sleeplessness, and also for "potpourri" and sachets. Broom and elder flowers follow. Mullein and mallow, bergamot, peony petals, rose petals and red poppy petals bring good prices; likewise raspberry leaves, sage, mint, balm and thyme.

ROBS OTHER BIRDS OF PREY

"Frigate Pelican" Secures Its Food Chiefly by Forcing Its Weaker Brethren to Disgorge.

The frigate bird, also called the man-of-war hawk and the "frigate pelican," is a sea bird, so called from its attacks on other birds. This bird, very large and with black plumage, is capable of very powerful and rapid flight. It sometimes measures ten feet from tip to tip of its extended wings. On account of its immense extent of wing and its dashing habits, it has been called the swiftest bird that sweeps the seas.

The frigate bird is a tropical sea bird of two species. The larger ranges all round the world within the tropics; the smaller is found only near the eastern seas from Madagascar to Moluccas and southward to Australia. Both species breed in large colonies, building their nests on rocks, high cliffs or lofty trees on uninhabited islands. The birds often fly far out to sea, but most of the time they remain near shore.

The frigate bird's aerial evolutions are extremely graceful and it soars to great heights. It is said never to dive for its prey, but to seize fishes only when they appear at the surface or above it. Flying fishes form a great part of its food. This bird of prey also pursues gulls and terns and eats the fish it forces them to disgorge. The male acquires under its bill a bright scarlet pouch which is capable of inflation.

MAYOR WHO GETS 50 CENT SALARY WANTS AN 8,000 PER CENT INCREASE

(International News Service)

HOOPERSTON, Ill., Feb. 24.—With salaries falling every place the Mayor of Hooperston has just filed a demand for an 8,000 per cent increase in salary and his Aldermen for a 5,000 per cent advance.

With 5,000 population and $50,000 in the city treasury the city officials declare they are tired of working for their present stipends. The Mayor now receives fifty cents a year or nine and six-tenths mills a week and the Aldermen 25 cents a year, or four and eight-tenths mills a week. They are paid by the year and have no expense accounts. The Mayor is demanding $8 a week and the Aldermen $5.

A resolution embodying the demands was introduced at the last meeting of the City Council by Alderman Thomas Lins and adopted without a dissenting vote. As soon as the citizenry heard of it a mass meeting was held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. Two former Mayors, I. E. Merritt and William Moore, opposed the demands.

"For forty years," declared Mr. Moore, "Hooperston's Mayors have been glad to serve the people of this commonwealth for 50 cents a year. This resolution is indicative of the shocking state of affairs that now obtains in this country. It would be a reckless waste of money to accede to the demands. These men are dollar mad."

Other speakers set forth the "enivale" fame gained by Hooperston as the "Holy City." "We've never had a saloon here. We have more church-going people than any metropolis of its size in the world. We have well paved and clean streets and handsome homes. Hooperston has never been broke. It now has $50,000 in the city treasury."

One of Gambetta's eyes is in the possession of a doctor. His brain and his intestine, perforated by a bullet, are the property of the faculty of medicine, but none of the doctors who assisted at the autopsy and dissection of the body can remember what became of the legs.

Do You Know a Baby Sick With Constipation

Tell the mother to give half a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

NO thoughtful mother with children in the house will risk being without a good, reliable laxative. It will save many a serious illness, many a doctor's visit.

When the baby cries and is fretful, when the boy has no appetite and won't play, when the girl is listless and feverish, when there are complaints of headaches and colds, the mother can suspect constipation. Give Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin in the small dose prescribed on the bottle, when you put the child to bed, and with morning the ailment will have disappeared.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a popular compound of Egyptian Senna and other simple laxative herbs with pepsin and pleasant-tasting aromatics. It acts gently and mildly, and children take it without objection. A sixty-cent bottle is enough to last an average family many months. The ingredients are endorsed in the U. S. Pharmacopoeia, and last year American mothers bought over eight million bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin from druggists. It is the largest selling liquid laxative in the world, and few cautious families are without it.

TRY IT FREE

Send me your name and address and I will send you a free trial bottle of my Syrup Pepsin. Address me Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 313 Washington Street, Monticello, Illinois. Everybody now and then needs a laxative, and it is well to know the best. Write me today.

Amusement

MARK TWAIN LIVES

ON THE SCREEN IN "HUCKLE-

BERRY FINN"

PRINCESS TODAY

That incomparable novel of boy life, "Huckleberry Finn", has been put into what is considered a truly great photoplay. It will be shown at the Princess Theatre today.

The motion picture producers say that no stories lend themselves so admirably to production on the screen as do the humorous works of the inimitable Mark Twain. "Huck and Tom" and "Tom Sawyer" were earlier photoplay successes. Now the same director, William D. Taylor, has taken the beloved vagabond, Huck Finn, and made him the hero of a film that is said to be even more enjoyable than its predecessors.

Lewis Sargent, a boy-actor, red-haired and freckle-faced and an experienced pantomimist, appears as Huck Finn. Gordon Griffith is Tom Sawyer and the rest of the cast maintains the same high standard. Julia Crawford Ivers, one of the cleverest of scenarists, adapted "Huckleberry Finn" to the screen and throughout has maintained the true Mark Twain flavor. It is a Paramount Artercraft production.

TO PROTECT WORKERS FROM FAKE PROMOTERS

CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—Chicago workers will be protected from fake stock promoters hereafter, according to plans of the Better Business Bureau. A keyman, unknown to the employees, will investigate all unknown stocks offered for sale to workmen.

REVIVE INTEREST IN MONUMENT TO CONFEDERACY IN THE SOUTH

(International News Service)

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 24.—Gutzon Borglum, the noted sculptor, and Don Alfonso Louis Jerome de Bourbon, internationally known artist, have arrived in Atlanta and are the guests of the city.

Mr. Borglum is here to revive an interest in the proposed Confederate monument on Stone Mountain, the largest monolith in the world, which has been given the Stone Mountain Confederate Monumental Association by its owners, the Venable family.

The plan by which Mr. Borglum proposed to interest the people is the projection of a wonderful drama, the scene laid on Stone Mountain, which will be shown in moving pictures over the country.

The work on Stone Mountain was begun in 1915 and a public ceremony held at the mountain May 20, when hundreds of people from all parts of the State were present to take part in the dedication of the monument.

The monument will represent General Robert E. Lee, General Stonewall Jackson and General Joseph E. Johnston as the central figures; the other figures representing the Confederate Army in action, the figures in base relief, diminishing in size at the opposite ends of the sheer side of the thousands of feet of granite.

Mr. Venable has given the 300 feet of land at the base of the mountain, and this will be made into a park.

There will be a museum at the foot of the monument with an approach through thirteen granite columns, each one representing one of the thirteen original States. These columns will be inscribed by the Daughters of the Confederacy in each state represented.

Origin of Idea

The original thought to make Stone Mountain into a gigantic monument for the heroes of the Confederacy was that of William H. Terrell, an Atlanta lawyer. After the idea was taken up and advanced by the United Daughters of the Confederacy and the association formed, Gutzon Borglum was selected to do the work.

Mr. Borglum has the pledge of a number of wealthy men in the East to back him up in the work, and he has the entire organization of the National Society of United Daughters of the Confederacy working with him towards a fulfillment of their cherished dream to have as a memorial to the Confederacy a monument that will be, when completed, one of the wonders of the world.
